

Submission requirements

Guidelines for Authors

The submission process plays a pivotal role for authors aiming to publish their work in the Journal of Premier Research. Below is a comprehensive overview of the submission process:

1. Electronic Submission: Authors must submit their manuscripts electronically via the journal's online submission system, accessible through the journal's website. This system offers a user-friendly interface for uploading manuscripts and accompanying files. Authors should carefully follow the instructions provided on the website for manuscript submission, including account creation, login procedures, and accessing the submission portal.

2. Inclusion of Required Components: Authors are responsible for ensuring that all necessary manuscript components and supplementary materials are included in the submission package. This includes the main manuscript document, title page, abstract, keywords, main text sections (Introduction, Methods, Results, Discussion, Conclusion), references, figures, tables, and any supplementary materials such as additional data files, appendices, or multimedia content. Failure to include any required components may lead to delays or rejection of the submission.

3. Review and Confirmation: Before finalizing the submission process, authors should meticulously review and confirm all submission details for accuracy and completeness. This involves verifying author names, affiliations, contact information, and manuscript content. Authors should also ensure that the manuscript formatting complies with the journal's guidelines. Once all details are confirmed, authors can proceed to finalize the submission.

4. Monitoring Submission Status: Authors should actively monitor the status of their manuscript through the online submission system. This enables authors to track the progress of their submission, including confirmation of receipt, assignment to an Associate Editor, initiation of the peer review process, and editorial decision-making. Authors should regularly check their submission dashboard for updates and notifications from the editorial office.

5. Prompt Response to Communications: Authors are expected to promptly respond to any communications from the editorial office regarding the manuscript review process. This may include requests for additional information, clarification, revisions, or responses to reviewer comments. Timely communication with the editorial office expedites the review process and ensures efficient manuscript handling.

By adhering to these detailed instructions for manuscript submission, authors can streamline the review and publication process and enhance the likelihood of successful publication in the Journal of Premier Research. It is crucial for authors to familiarize themselves with the journal's submission guidelines and closely adhere to them to ensure a seamless and efficient submission experience.